DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The applicant recites a method, wherein increasing the fin thickness while the gate is isolated from the set of tins by the gate cover.

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as based on a disclosure which is not enabling. Steps of the increasing the fin thickness which are critical or essential to the practice of the invention, but not included in the specification is not enabled by the disclosure. See In re Mayhew, 527 F.2d 1229, 188 USPQ 356 (CCPA 1976).

The subject matter of the claims is drawn to a method of fabricating a FinFET. However, the only steps recited are to the processes. No steps are provided coupling this process with the formation of the increasing of the fit thickness. The specification not described the method of the increasing the fin thickness.
